

Landmark Education Philippines Graduate Seminar Program

The Money Seminar

From Concern to Freedom

Most of the time we relate to money as something separate from ourselves – a “thing” to be managed, lost, spent or saved – but rarely do we appreciate the use of money, with its myriad implications as a conversation that we invented to lend power to our own interactions.

The Money Seminar provides a provocative inquiry into your conversation about finances. It's not about altering the circumstances of your checkbook or world finances; rather it examines your relationship to money, how you think about it, and use it to make decisions. This seminar examines money as power, as freedom, as burden and as opportunity
