No other program produces the alteration in performance and leadership skills available in this program. Almost 50,000 successful women and men have participated in The Introduction Leaders Program, which trains you in communicating in such a way that others are left with a possibility in their lives. It is an opportunity to expand and express your natural ability to contribute profoundly to others, and to speak in a way that leaves them with a greater experience of freedom as well as new opportunities to take action in their lives.

가

The transformation that you created in The Landmark Forum—and continue to create—expands as you share it and ceases to exist when you keep it to yourself. The Introduction Leaders Program offers you an opportunity to expand your own transformation.
